Summary

Frontend developer, currently making personal projects and freelance works using HTML, CSS and JavaScript. Lifelong learner, perfecting my coding skills and getting better everyday, looking forward to deepen my knowledge in the tech area. Also interested in Machine Learning and mobile development. The projects I've concluded so far are based on HTML, CSS and JS, some using API communication and also taking advantage of responsive design to work seamlessly on every device. I'm currently on a learning curve, studying API integrations, CSS animations back-end coding, and much more, looking forward to write code and be a better version of my past self everyday.

10+ years on experience in media production/advertisement, solving problems in a creative, graphical or visual way, besides developing soft skills and professional communication skills to work in a team.
